

MILLENNIUM POINT
PRIVACY NOTICE
FOR THE RECRUITMENT OF EMPLOYEES, MEMBERS, WORKERS AND CONSULTANTS V1.3

This notice applies to potential new employees, members, workers and consultants. This notice does not form part of any contract of employment or other contract to provide services. If you are offered and accept an engagement with us, you will be provided with a new privacy notice which will replace this one and cover you working for us.

References to we, our or us in this privacy notice are to the [Millennium Point] Group (being [Millennium Point Trust] Limited and its direct subsidiary [Millennium Point Property Limited]).

Details of our trading entities are as follows:

Millennium Point Trust is a company limited by guarantee incorporated in England and Wales. Registered Number: 03227575. Registered Office: [Millennium Point, Curzon Street, Birmingham, B4 7XG].

Millennium Point Property Limited is a limited company incorporated in England and Wales. Registered Number: 03296443. Registered Office: Millennium Point, Curzon Street, Birmingham, B4 7XG.

This privacy notice also covers any joint venture companies, bodies or organisation that we have an interest in and to which you are seconded, carrying out activities on behalf of or are appointed as one of its officers or representatives.

We have not appointed a Data Protection Officer to oversee our compliance with data protection laws as we not required to do so, but our GDPR Compliance Manager has overall responsibility for data protection compliance in our organisation. Contact details are set out in the "Contacting us" section at the end of this privacy notice.

We are committed to respecting your privacy. This notice is to explain how we may use personal information we collect before and during our recruitment process. This notice explains how we comply with the law on data protection and what your rights are. A separate and replacement privacy notice will be provided to you to cover your working relationship with us if we do recruit you to work for us.

For the purposes of this privacy notice the controller is the relevant part of the [Millennium Point] Group [or our joint venture companies, bodies or organisations] which is processing your personal information to recruit you.

1. Data protection principles

In relation to your personal data, we will:

- process it fairly, lawfully and in a clear, transparent way
- collect your data only for reasons that we find proper for the course of your employment and in ways that have been explained to you
- only use it in the way that we have told you about
- ensure it is correct and up to date
- keep your data for only as long as we need it
- process it in a way that ensures it will not be used for anything that you are not aware of or have consented to (as appropriate), lost or destroyed

2. Personal Information we may collect

When you interact with us in relation to your work with us, you may provide us with or we may obtain personal information about you, such as information regarding your:

- your personal details including your name, title, address, date of birth, email address, phone numbers;
- your gender;
- marital status and dependants;
- referee details, next of kin, beneficiaries, details of family members and emergency contacts;
- recruitment (including copies of right to work documentation, past employment history, references and other information included in a CV or cover letter or as part of the application process);
- documentation relating to your right to work in the UK
- national insurance number and other tax or governmental identifiers;
- bank accounts, payroll and tax status
- salary, remuneration, profit share, annual leave, pension and benefits;
- start date and leaving date;
- location of employment or workplace;
- driving licence(s) (including copies where we are required to hold such information for identification or insurance purposes);
- identification documents such as passport, utility bills, identity cards, etc;
- work records (including job titles, work history, working hours, training records and professional memberships) and education and professional records/qualifications;
- compensation history and charity donation preferences;
- pension and pension entitlements; and
- images in video and/or photographic form and voice recordings.

We will always aim to make it clear which personal information it is necessary for you to provide and which personal information is optional. However, if you are unsure as to whether you are required to provide any particular piece of personal information please ask.

3. Special categories of personal information

We may also collect, store and use the following “special categories” of more sensitive personal information regarding you:

- information about your race or ethnicity, religious beliefs, sexual orientation and political opinions;
- information about your trade union memberships;
- information about your health, including any medical condition, health and sickness records, medical records and health professional information and disability information; and

- biometric information about you, for example fingerprints, retina scans.

We may not collect all of the above types of special category information about you. In relation to the special category personal data that we do process we do so on the basis that:

- the processing is necessary for reasons of substantial public interest, on a lawful basis;
- it is necessary for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims;
- it is necessary for the purposes of carrying out the obligations and exercising our or your rights in the field of employment and social security and social protection law; or
- based on your explicit consent.

In the table below we refer to these as the “special category reasons for processing of your personal data”.

We may also collect criminal records information. For criminal records information in relation to you we process it on the basis of legal obligations or based on your explicit consent.

4. How we collect your data

We collect data about you in a variety of ways including the information you would normally include in a CV or a job application cover letter or notes made during a recruitment interview.

In some cases, we will collect data about you from third parties, such as employment agencies, former employers when gathering references, credit reference agencies, online recruitment platforms or work related online platforms such as LinkedIn. Personal data is kept in personnel files or within the Company’s HR and IT systems which is securely stored.

If you are providing us with details of referees, next of kin, beneficiaries, family members and emergency contacts they have a right to know and to be aware of how what personal information we hold about them, how we collect it and how we use and may share that information. Please share this privacy notice with those of them whom you feel are sufficiently mature to understand it. They also have the same rights as set out in the “Your rights in relation to personal information” section below.

You are not under any obligation to provide us with any of your personal information, but if you do not provide it then we may not be able to engage you.

You should be aware that it is not a condition of any contract with us that you agree to any request for consent from us. Where you have given us your consent to use your personal information in a particular manner, you have the right to withdraw this consent at any time, which you may do by contacting us as described in the "Contacting us" section below.

Please note however that the withdrawal of your consent will not affect any use of the data made before you withdrew your consent and we may still be entitled to hold and process the relevant personal information to the extent that we are entitled to do so on bases other than your consent.

Withdrawing consent may also have the same effects as not providing the information in the first place, for example we may no longer be able to engage you.

6. Who we share your personal information with

We share personal information with the following parties:

- Organisations in the same group as us: if relevant to your recruitment.
- Your recruitment agency(s) or consultant(s): For the purpose of managing the recruitment process
- Our professional advisors: such as lawyers, accountants, consultants and other advisors
- Other service providers to our business: administration and IT services. All our third-party service providers and other entities in the group are required to take appropriate security measures to protect your personal information.
- Purchasers of our business: buyers or perspective buyers to whom we sell or negotiate to sell our business.
- The Government or our regulators: where we are required to do so by law or to assist with their investigations or initiatives, for example HMRC or the Information Commissioner's Office.
- Police, law enforcement and security services: to assist with the investigation and prevention of crime and the protection of national security.

We do not disclose personal information to anyone else except as set out above unless we have your consent or we are legally obliged to do so. We do not sell your data.

7. Transferring your personal information internationally

The personal information we collect is not transferred to and stored in countries outside of the UK and the European Union.

Our directors and other individuals working for us may in limited circumstances access personal information outside of the UK and European Union if they are on holiday abroad outside of the UK or European Union. If they do so they will be using our security measures and will be subject to their arrangements with us which are subject to English Law and the same legal protections that would apply to accessing personal data within the UK.

In limited circumstances the people to whom we may disclose personal information as mentioned in the section "Who we share your personal information with" above may be located outside of the UK and European Union. In these cases we will impose any legally required protections to the personal information as required by law before it is disclosed.

If you require more details on the arrangements for any of the above then please contact us using the details in the "Contacting us" section below.

8. How long we keep your personal information for

The duration for which we retain your personal information will differ depending on the type of information and the reason why we collected it from you. However, in some cases personal information may be retained on a long term basis: for example, personal information that we need to retain for legal purposes will normally be retained in accordance with usual commercial practice and regulatory requirements. Generally, where there is no legal requirement we retain all physical and electronic records for a period of 6 months if you are unsuccessful in your application to work for us and you have not provided consent for us to keep your personal information for future job vacancies. Exceptions to this rule are:

- CCTV records which are held for no more than 30 days unless we need to preserve the records for the purpose of prevention and detection of crime;
- Information that may be relevant to personal injury claims, employment claims, discrimination claims may be retained until the limitation period for those types of claims has expired. For personal injury or discrimination claims this can be an extended period as the limitation period might not start to run until a long time after you have worked for us.

If we have sought your consent to keep your data on file for future job vacancies, and you have provided consent, we will keep your data for six months once the recruitment exercise ends. At the end of this period, we will delete or destroy your data, unless you have already withdrawn your consent to our processing of your data in which case it will be deleted or destroyed upon your withdrawal of consent.

9. Your rights in relation to personal information

The law on data protection gives you certain rights in relation to the data we hold on you. These are:

- the right to be informed about how we use your personal data. This means that we must tell you how we use your data, and this is the purpose of this privacy notice;
- the right to access the data that we hold on you;
- the right to request the correction of inaccurate personal information we hold about you;
- the right to request the erasure of your personal information in certain limited circumstances;
- the right to restrict processing of your personal information where certain requirements are met;
- the right to object to the processing of your personal information;
- the right to request that we transfer elements of your data either to you or another service provider; and
- the right to object to certain automated decision-making processes using your personal information.

You should note that some of these rights, for example the right to require us to transfer your data to another service provider or the right to object to automated decision making, may not apply as they have specific requirements and exemptions which apply to them and they may not apply to personal information recorded and stored by us. For example, we do not use automated decision making in relation to your personal data. However, some have no conditions attached, so your right to withdraw consent or object to processing for direct marketing are absolute rights.

We may need to request specific information from you to help us confirm your identity and ensure your right to access the information (or to exercise any of your other rights). This is another appropriate security measure to ensure that personal information is not disclosed to any person who has no right to receive it.

Whilst this privacy notice sets out a general summary of your legal rights in respect of personal information, this is a very complex area of law. More information about your legal rights can be found on the Information Commissioner's website at <https://ico.org.uk/for-the-public/>.

To exercise any of the above rights, or if you have any questions relating to your rights, please contact us by using the details set out in the "Contacting us" section below.

10. Making a complaint

If you are unhappy with the way we are using your personal information you can also complain to the UK Information Commissioner's Office or your local data protection regulator. We are here to help and encourage you to contact us to resolve your complaint first.

11. Changes to this notice

We may update this privacy notice from time to time. When we change this notice in a material way, we will update the version date at the bottom of this page. For significant changes to this notice we will try to give you reasonable notice unless we are prevented from doing so. Where required by law we will seek your consent to changes in the way we use your personal information.

12. Contacting us

In the event of any query or complaint in connection with the information we hold about you, please contact the People, Learning and Development department on 0121 202 2247 or email the GDPR Compliance Manager at gdpcompliance@millenniumpoint.org.uk
